NEW CITY EXECUTIVE

Mayor Harry Hinkson

NEW OFFICIALS HOLD PARTY MONDAY

Mayor Hinkson and Service Director Hewitt, Ask Police for Rigid Liquor Law Enforcement

The police department, city officials and others held a New Year's party at police station, New Year's eve, and saw the old year out in good shape. Present were Mayor Hinkson, Service Director James Hewitt, and ex-Service Director H. A. Beck, all members of the police department, Coroner M.E. Perry, Sheriff Fred Underhill and manager of the Rialto theatre, Vic Woodard.

Short talks were made by Mayor Hinkson and Director Hewitt in which both told the police they wanted the laws of the city strictly carried out especially the prohibition laws. Corner Perry and Sheriff Underhill spoke briefly, and several members of the police force also spoke. Vic Woodard came to the front by offering an honor badge to some members of the police force this coming year. Just what he offered it for, and whether it will be a leather medal or not, Vic didn't state.

Lunch of hot coffee, sandwiches, cake and pickles was served, and just as the party was about to break up along came Capt. Jeffries and his Salvation Army band. They marched into the council chamber and proceeded to give a concert. Then along Frank Klady and his officers from a midnight raid, and all hands had another lunch. The police force all agree that it was one of the best meetings they have ever had, and they are looking for more just like it.

GRILL FILM STARS IN RIOTOUS PARTY ENDED IN SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 2.—The condition of Courtland S. Dines, wealthy young oil man, was critical today and it was said at police headquarters that if Dines dies a charge of murder in the first degree would be placed against H. A. Greer, alias Joe Kelley, chauffeur for Mabel Norman, noted film actress. Greer shot Dines last night in the presence of Miss Normand and Miss Edna Purviance, leading woman for Charlie Chaplin, film comedian.

Efforts of the police since the shooting have been directed toward securing a more definite account of what happened last night. The shooting culminated a new year's party at which the police said considerable liquor was consumed and the versions offered by Miss Normand, Miss Purviance and Greer, differ widely.

Conflicting Stories

The wide point of variety in the stories of the persons involved hinges, police say, on the statement of Kelley, especially that he was summoned to the apartment of Dines by a telephone call that Dines was holding Miss Norman there against her will. Miss Normand emphatically denies this, and the police, in extending their inquiry were told that Dines and Miss Purviance were engaged to be married. When questioned at police headquarters before being allowed to go to her home, Miss Purviance refused to say whether she was engaged to Dines.

During the time, however, that Miss Normand and Miss Purviance were in the office of assistant captain of detectives Herman Cline, both repeatedly asked to be allowed to go into the emergency hospital—which is in the same building—and see Dines. This permission was denied them however, until Cline and members of the police squad questioned Kelly in the presence of the two young women.

When, though, shortly after midnight, the police told Miss Normand and Miss Purviance that they were free to go to their homes until summoned again for further questioning, both insisted on seeing Dines. They were taken to the ward room of the hospital. What happened there was told by hospital attaches as follows:

Both Kiss Victim

Miss Purviance was the first to enter the hospital ward. She rushed impulsively to the bedside of Dines, dropped to her knees, threw her arms about him and sobbed: "Oh, Courtland, I love you. It will kill me if you die." Dines had been lying back in bed with his eyes closed. He opened them when he felt Miss Purviance embracing him. He smiled weakly and said in an assumed tone of jocularity: "They can't kill me. 'Doc" says I'm all right."

Miss Purviance' continued to kiss him until Miss Normand came to the bedside. She remained standing, looking down at Dines with an expression of mock reproach shook one finger at him and said: "Hello there Ducky. I'm not going to play around with you any more—just see what a lot of notoriety you've got me."

Then she stooped and kissed him.

Refuse Request

Miss Purviance asked the hospital authorities if it would be possible to have Dines removed at once to the Good Samaritan hospital. His condition was such that this could have been done, but the police would not give their consent.

During the night there were numerous telephone calls to the emergency hospital by one or more women. No men called up. No names were given by those who asked regarding Dines condition.

Divorced From Wife.

FALL RIVER, Mass, Jan. 2.—C. S. Dines, victim of the Los Angeles shooting in which Mabel Normand is involved, was the divorced husband of Mrs. Harry T. Harley, a widow of this city. She married Dines six years ago and recently obtained a divorce.

Retired Businessman.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 2.—Courtland S. Dines, who was shot and seriously wounded by R. C. Greer, chauffeur for Mabel Normand, famous movie actress in Los Angeles, is the son of Tyson S. Dines, millionaire oil man, broker and prominent social leader in Denver and is 33 years old.

Dines retired from business in 1918 selling his interests here to Wilson and Cranmer, brokers, and went to Los Angeles, where he engaged in the oil business. He is said to have had more than a million dollars the year previous to disposing of his interests

Tyson S. Dines, father of Courtland, was out of the city today and could not be reached this morning, but a brother, Eugene Dines, denied emphatically that the wounded man was engaged either to Miss Purviance or Miss Normand.

It was rumored in society circles here some time ago that Dines was infatuated with Miss Purviance and following his divorce ffrom Mrs. Eleanor Harty Dines, left for Los Angeles.

Mrs. Robert Van Schaack, Dines divorced wife, when told of the tragedy, said:

"I had heard of Mr. Dines' affair in Los Angeles with a movie actress. The affair was common talk around, but no one seemed to know anything definite of who the actress was."

Dines was granted a divorce in 1918 as the result of a disagreement which came a year after the couple were married.

Dines was a crack athlete and several times golf champion of the Denver Country Club.

COLD WAVE ABATES

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Temperatures were slowly climbing today after the promised gusty blasts of winter arrived hand in hand with the new year. Over the northwest from the Rockies to the Great Lakes, the snow and ice trimmed season made up for it's tardiness with drops as wide as seventy degrees, set marks close to last year's coldest days.

USES BRICK TO SMASH HIS WAY INTO MAYOR'S OFFICE IN KENMORE, O., DISPUTE

KENMORE, Jan. 2.—M. V. Johnson, elected mayor of this city by a disputed majority of 37 votes, armed with a court ruling, a paving brick and a pane of glass, smashed his way into the office at city hall this morning and assumed his new role as chief executive. He carried the pane of glass to replace the one he demolished in his sensational entry.

Sam Goodman, mayor for the last two years, refused to relinquish the three keys of the office. This was the reason Johnson used a brick. He heaved it through the door and then climbed into authority, taking care not to scratch his magisterical skin or tear his official garments.

Goodman contends there were enough errors in the vote last November to require a recount. Common Pleas Court will decide the issue tomorrow. In the meantime Johnson is inside looking out and Goodman is outside looking in.

Other arrangements were made and Dr. Wiedfeldt escorted the wife of the Japanese ambassador to the dining room.

STEAL $100000 WORTH OF OPIUM

Nine Armed Men Bind and Gag Watchman at New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Opium valued at $100,000 was stolen from a warehouse pier in Brooklyn, early today.

Nine armed men bound and gagged five watchmen employed to guard the ten cases of drugs. The robbers loaded their loot into an automobile and escaped.

The opium, property of a wholesale drug house, recently arrived from Turkey.

The banidts forced a door leading to the pier warehouse, and commanded the five watchmen to hold up their hands.

Then, one by one, the watchmen were bound with wire and gagged.

The opium was carried to a waiting auto and the bandits drove away.

One of the watchmen unloosed his hands and released the others, then called police.

NEW YEAR'S EVE LIQUOR PARTIES FLOOR 241 MORE

MAYOR HINKSON HOLDS FIRST COURT

Flirters With African Golf Given Suspended Fines; Drunk Given $1 and Reckless Auto Driver Warned After Being Assessed $5

Mayor Harry Hinkson held his first court New Year's morning and a number of his friends were on hand to see that everything went off right, and to wish him a Happy New Year. Other friends sent in a number of floral offerings for his desk, with a Happy New Year card.

The mayor was feeling in good spirits and this was fortunate to four individuals who were brought before him for infractions of the law. He followed a precedent established many years ago when most law violators were fined and then the fine and costs suspended if the offense took place on a legal holiday.

The first man to face him was Wm. Smith, of Barberton, on a charge of intoxication.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the mayor.

"Guilty," was the reply.

"I'll fine you $1 and costs, and suspend them during good behavior, but don't come here again or you'll get more," said his honor.

Then came Carl Rawson and Joseph Kershaw, charged with indiscreetly flirting with African golf for a brief moment New Year's night. They said that they not been playing but that they were only watching some other boys who got away do the flirting. "Well, I guess I'll fine you $1 and costs each and suspend it. Don't get in trouble again," said the mayor.

James Harris was charged with reckless driving his automobile. He smashed into a car of James Harris, while on West avenue, and both machines were damaged and Hartman had an arm skinned up. Harris plead guilty and was fined $5 and costs. "Be more careful in driving, hereafter, or you'll get the limit if your brought in here again on this charge," said Hinkson.

Wellington And Lorain Places Are Raided

Prohibition Officer Frank Klady and Officer Kern were on the lookout for liquor violators New Year's eve, and made several arrests. At the place of Mrs. William Shinsky, 1608 Broadway, Lorain, they found a gang of men, and soon after Mrs. Shinsky came in with two bottles that she had been out to replenish but had failed. She saw the officers and they soon after found a bottle partly filled with hooch, and she was notified to appear before Judge Thompson today. Up to noon she had not done so.

At the place of Geze Fazekas, 1570 East 28th street, the officers found four gallons of distilled liquor and confiscated it. Fazekas will appear before the court today and make his plea.

Officer Frank Klady made a raid on the home of James Blanco, Mill and Magyar streets, Wellington. He found three barrels and two half barrels of what he believes to be wine, and a quantity of beer. Samples were taken and will be submitted to a chemist to be analyzed.

FUR STEALERS ARE ARRESTED

George Kriebel reported to Sheriff Underhill that some one had entered his barn on the Gulf road and had stolen nine skunk, two possum and thirty-one musk rat skins. He reported that he had a trace of where they were sold, and part of the loot was found at the Linden Bros., School street, dealers in furs. They were able to tell who sold them the skins and a visit was made to the Gerber home on Elyria avenue, Lorain. There the balance of the skins were found, and the Sheriff arrested T. W. Gerber and Ed. Kalezwiski. They were bound over to the grand jury by Justice George under $1,000 bond each.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Twelve dead, 241 ill, some critically, that was New York's toll from holiday "hooch" drinking, a sober survey revealed today. Police said the figures were double those of last year, embracing the toll of both Christmas and New Year's.

Some observers insisted it had been the wettest holiday celebration in years, even before prohibition.

William Anderson, president of the State Anti-saloon League, contended however, that the new year celebration was "quite dry."

Arrests were few, only four persons being charged with a liquor law violation since new year's eve.

50 Capital Arrests

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Federal prohibition authorities and the metropolitan police were in disagreement today as to whether the national capital celebration of new year's day was wet or dry.

Fifty persons were arrested for drunkenness, six for violations of the Volstead act and 100 others for various offenses, including three for assault, while the celebration was in progress.

Prohibition headquarters, however, issued a statement to the effect that the liquor laws were well enforced despite the large number of persons taken into custody by the police.

False Fire Alarms

Wayne B. Wheeler, chief agent here of the Anti-Saloon League sided with the police, declaring in a formal statement that "much drinking was done in public places," and urging the prosecution of the "bootleggers and their customers."

In addition to the liquor law violations, the police were busy in quelling fights of various sorts and the fire department joined in the celebration by answering more than a score of false alarms.

ONE AT SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 2.—New Year's liquor resulted in the death of James Howitt, 46, whose body was found in bed after a new year's celebration at his bachelor quarters.

ONE DEAD, THREE DYING

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 2.—One man is dead, three others are dying and 17 men and women are receiving treatment in hospitals here today as a result of drinking poison liquor.

THREE AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Moonshine celebrated the new year by killing three persons in Chicago, according to reports today to police. One of the victims, John Hines, was a boy of twenty years. He drank until unconscious, then died. William Krupka was found dead, with bottles strewn about him like flowers at a bier. John Robinson died of a skull fracture suffered, according to police, while drunk.

The celebration was the dryest in years, police said.

BELGIAN PRIEST IS SLAIN BY BRIGANDS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1924

ASAPH R. JONES' SUCCESSFUL ADMINISTRATION

Asaph R. Jones yesterday turned over the city administration to his successor. He has finished six years—three terms—as mayor of Elyria and we believe that these years, judged by the test of time, will loom up as six years of the best administration that Elyria has ever had.

This paper, then the "Telegram," opposed Mr. Jones' nomination and election the first time. At that time the present owners had not purchased the paper. It was owned by others and edited by others, after Mr. Jones had served a considerable period. But before the present editor took charge, the "Telegram" printed an editorial which we believe is well worth republishing in part. We believe as the readers who know Mayor Jones and know his administration will say that it is as applicable and as true today as it was when it was written. This editorial said in part:

> "Asaph Jones appears to be making good as the city's chief executive. We have watched his administration with keenest interest and increasing pleasure. His pre-election promise that he would give the duties of the office his whole time and attention is being fulfilled to the letter, and that fact, no doubt, is contributing much to the success of his administration.
> "It was the fear of his opponents that he would be controlled by a ring or clique, but he appears to be as free from anything of the kind as any man that ever held a public office. In the discharge of his duties as police judge, he shows a tenderness of heart, when the circumstances justify it, that is in strange contrast to the courage displayed at other times, when courage is required. They are both commendable qualities in a man and show the manliness in a man.
>
> "He has measured up to every responsibility, and as one who opposed him because of the fear that he would not, we are pleased to admit his worth and confess our mistaken judgment. He gets more real enjoyment out of the office than any other man in Elyria could ever hope to get. He feels a pardonable pride in the fact that he is the city's chief executive. Pride is often a sustaining virtue, as it seems to be with him though with many 'pride goeth before destruction.'
>
> "While he is not a Demosthenes in eloquence, or a French diplomat in gracefulness, he combines the patriotism of Patrick Henry and the Pershing brand of push, so that on all occasions and in all that he has to do with such affairs, he performs his duty in a manner that reflects credit upon himself and the municipality which he represents in his official capacity. His interests are in Elyria, and every official act shows that his heart is here."

Mayor Jones made a success of his administration because, while at all times he was a Republican, he recognzed that he was mayor of all the people and in no sense was a factionalist. He demonstrated that he had the breadth of view, good business judgment, knowledge of men, and withal was a man of good conscience. We believe that there are few, if any, better governed cities in the state of Ohio than Elyria has been during the past six years.

Mr. Jones has never attempted to use his office to reward friends or punish enemies. He has conceived it at all times to be the purpose of his office to serve all the citizens of Elyria without any discrimination. It has been because of these qualities that he was elected mayor on two successive occasions after his first term and gave him the following of friends and confidants that he has at this hour.

Whatever his plans may be in the future, he leaves the office with a knowledge of duty, faithfully performed. He has shown himself a man.

THE INCOMING ADMINISTRATION

Mayor Harry Hinkson took charge of the city's affairs as mayor of Elyria yesterday. While we opposed Mr. Hinkson's election, we sincerely hope that he will surprise those who were opposed to him by giving the best administration the city of Elyria has ever had.

He is ushered into office with conditions in our city life in harmony and with the desire on the part of the citizens for unity to keep Elyria as one of the best cities for all purposes and to build it up in civic pride and industry.

It is a great opportunity for service, an opportunity to serve all the people of the city, and in proportion as a man of ability, who is in the office of the chief executive of the city devotes himself to the interests of all citizens, in that proportion he is bound to make a success of his administration.

Cliques and factions and groups and those who thirst for power to use for selfish ends should have no part or parcel in an administrator's plans except to be treated as he treats all others, with fairness and consideration.

The citizens of Elyria should give the new mayor their hearty co-operation and support. They undoubtedly will do so.

They may be some controversy about who stopped th' war, but nobuddy won anything. Folks that hain't got time t' stop at railroad crossin's ought t' realize that maybe some one hain't got time t' gather 'em up an' put 'em t'gether.

KOMICAL TELEGRAMS

JIM ARMITAGE, Himself
By

Well, they finally have the old year danced out and it's about time to get 1924 wised up on a lot of new stuff.

Quite a few spent the last evening of 23 out at Alber's Villa with the Kiwanians.

They spoiled a lot of chicken and ruined a lot of bran new dancing pumps.

George Richwine made a speech n' everything. Burke offered the prayer because the toastmaster thought he would have to do a lot of praying this year and the practice wouldn't hurt.

He introduced me as "The Chronicle-Telegram wit." I thought that was pretty fair till he added that "A wit is equivalent to two half wits."

I dearly love high class music and classic singing. Missus Reynolds sang one of Beethoven's "They put the last clean shirt on Bill to-day." There wasn't any encore.

Everything was so original. When the party opened they all stood and sang 'The Star Spangled Banner."

That is all of them who happened to know the words.

"Bill" Smith was voted the "Most popular man" but they all seemed to think Henry Andress the best dancer.

Guess there wasn't any likker in the crowd for I know two or three fellows there, and they didn't sing "Indiana Moon"-shine.

One bird there from Oklahoma his name was Sid Roberts or something like that, and when they pinned the "K" pin on Richwine, he thou ht it stood for "Kleagle."

Believe me when the Elyria ladies start struttin' their stuff, it makes a fellow think they didn't put enough oughts in the slogan sign.

It's the first time some of the brothers met the milk man since New Year's day in 1923.

The druggists all report a good sale on foot powders after the holiday hops.

Some of the boys seemed to have trouble keeping their mind off the bills that would be in today's mail.

And Ernie Whitney was there and Ernie looked like Rudolph Valentino never does—in his new tuxedo.

Joy Herbert was there and so was Tim Terrell. Suppose they're trying to sell Albers a new washing machine.

And so was "Bill" Sudro. Now don't let that reflect on the party. He wasn't there professionally.

Old 1923 sure has a wonderful past.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

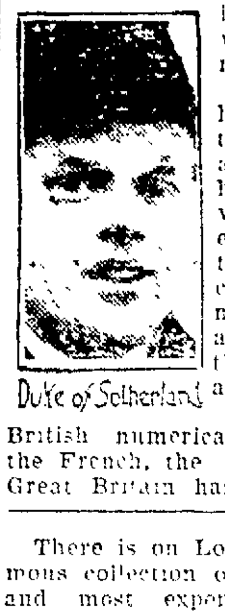
Japan is in the American market for motor trucks and light cars. Old ones were destroyed by the earthquake. We call a little man, who is very strong and active, a wiry man. Japan is a wiry nation. While the Japanese are physically strong, they have something else which is more important than muscle. They have an indomitable spirit. They are incapable of staying down. That is a real quailty.

London specialist says that the man who plays golf badly gets more benefit from it than one who plays well. The duffer is the gainer. The writer doesn't play golf and shouldn't speak. But it does seem as though something must be wrong with any game that yields its chief rewards to those who play it the most poorly. Hardly anything is worth doing which is not worth doing as well as possible. (There! We are now resigned to getting letters from golfers.)

John Borg, stock broker who retired at forty-two with two million dollars, says this, "Make friends. Money is the least important thing in life. Friendship is the most precious." Friends must not be ranked cold-bloodedly as business assets. The great joy of friendship is pure, unadulterated with anything. The rewards of friendship are intangible. Nevertheless, from every practical angle, the words of John Borg are true. Money can be lost and gained again—many times. Friends do not come and go in such fashion. They are a longer, finer growth, acquired in much more earnest manner.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

BRITAIN HOLDING OWN IN AIRPLANE BUILDING, SAYS AIR OFFICIAL



Duke of Sotherland

"As far as lighter than air construction is concerned America is ahead of England, because two years ago we scrapped all our lighter than air ships for reasons of economy and are only now about to revive light than air," so says the Duke of Sutherland, under-secretary in the British war ministry, now in the U. S.

"On the other hand, I believe that as regards airplanes we are holding our own very well with every country in the world except that, numerically, we are inferior to the French," he added.

Discussing the British numerical inferiority to the French, the Duke said that Great Britain has undertaken a program that will, he believes, so materially increase the power of the British flying forces as to greatly decrease, if not eliminate, the French preponderance. This program, he said calls for fifty-two squadrons.

"With regard to civil aviation, I believe we are ahead of America, partly, no doubt, on account of the subsidies the British government pays to operating films. Rightly or wrongly, we believe in this policy for the purpose of fostering the growth of civil aviation at the start. Ultimately, when i becomes firmly established, it should become self-supporting. In view of this we have just inaugurated a large air transport company with £1,000,000 capital to be raised privately, combining all air lines from London to the Continent of Europe, drawing a subsidy of £1,000,000 from the government, spread by instalments over the next ten years, by which time we believe the company should be self-supporting. Sir Eric Geddes has agreed to be chairman of this new company."

"At present," he said, "the British government does not own a single lighter than air carrier."

There is on Long Island a famous collection of orchids—rare and most expensive blooms—which is held at one million dollars. Its former owner financed expeditions into the far corners of the earth to find strange specimens. One of the orchid hunters, in his vain search, fell two thousand feet to death on the rocks. How characteristic of man! The thing we want most acquires high value, far beyond its intrinsic worth, because we want it and because it is hard to get. Therein lies the secret of the great successes and the great failures. Man's spirit is not limited to ruts and routines. And fortunately the thing one man wants another may pass by. We are all on quests and we make our own values. Do not be ashamed to pay high for the thing you want if it seems worthy to you. Do not be held back by your thought of what others may think. The world proceeds by the adventuring spirit of men and women and by their sel-expression.

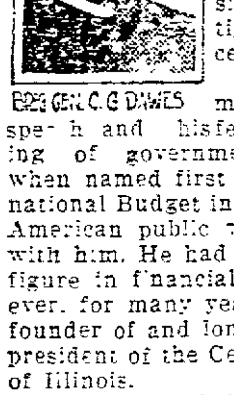
WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GEN. CHARLES G. DAWES

When the commission of allied and U. S. experts meets for the first time January 14 to lay plans for their investigation of Germany's financial condition Gen. Charles G. Dawes will preside.

Dawes was asked to accept the chairmanship when requested to serve as one of the three Americans on the committee. The other two members are Owen D. Young and Henry M. Robinson. The latter will devote his time to the work of the group assigned to investigate the finances exported.



GEN. C. G. DAWES

Dawes' frank manner of speech and his fearless slashing of governmental expenses when named first director of the national Budget in 1921 made the American public well acquainted with him. He had been a leading figure in financial circles, however, for many years. He is the founder of and long has been the president of the Central Trust Co. of Illinois.

He was one of the big men called upon for war service and saw duty in France, most of the time as chairman of the general purchasing board with the A. E. F., which handled the supplies for the U. S. boys.

As first director of the budget on appointment by President Harding, Dawes is credited with reducing the expenditures of the nation approximately $300,000,000 during the fiscal year he served.

POEMS THAT LIVE

SHADOWS

They seem'd to those who saw them meet,
The casual friends of every day;
Her smile was undisturbed and sweet,
His courtesy was free and gay.

But yet if one of the other's name
In some unguarded moment heard,
The heart you thought so calm and tame
Would struggle like a captured bird:

And letters of mere formal phrase
Were blistered with repeated tears—
And this was not the work of days,
But had gone on for years and years!

Alas, that love was not too strong
For maiden shame and manly pride!
Alas, that they delay'd so long
The goal of mutual bliss beside!

Yet what no chance could then reveal,
And neither would be first to own,
Let fate and courage now conceal
When truth could bring remorse alone.

—Lord Houghton.

He has written a number of other books on educational subjects, and has contributed many articles to the periodical press.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved, after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE

Sick Mother Rescued, But Her Seven Children, Another Relative and Father Perished in the Flames

OIL CITY, Pa., Jan. 2.—A man and eight of his grandchildren were burned to death here yesterday in a fire which destroyed the home of Claude Emminger, near Tylersburg, Clarion county.

The dead man was James Mentzer, 72, father of Mrs. Emminger. The children included seven members of Emminger's family and a nephew, Michael McNigle.

Mrs. Emminger, ill, was sleeping alone downstairs and was awakened by the smell of smoke. She opened a stairway door leading to the second floor and succeeded in battling her way through the smoked filled corridor to the rooms occupied by her husband and mother, collapsing in her husband's arms.

He carried her to safety and tried to re-enter the furnace into which the house had been transformed to save the children, but the flames, fanned by a high wind beat him back time and time again.

Meanwhile, as the flames levelled the house, the aged grandfather and the children, the youngest aged two months, the oldest 12, slept on.

Emminger, his wife and mother suffered severe burns in their attempted rescue, but doctors this morning said they would recover.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined. After a brief investigation, however, the Clarion county coroner declared an inquest would not be necessary.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

Two Ashland, Ohio, young men caused considerable excitement at Rye Beach the other evening, it is reported. After leaving the beach, they started to finish a fight at Huron, a nearby town, that had been started earlier in the evening.

After an hour and a half's battling, by the light of automobile headlamps, the larger man admitted defeat and they both piled in the rear seat of the machine and ordered the driver to proceed home. They arrived at the Ashland Garage about five in the morning, tired but happy—and better friends than ever.

Amherst Store Raided By Sheriff

Monday evening Sheriff Underhill raided a New Year's party in the basement of Joe Samalin's pool room, Amherst, shortly after midnight. The sheriff was unable to get into the place and police promptly broke down the door. In the basement they found Fred Kreig, H. E. Martin and H. J. Ludwig, who were arrested charged with gambling. Samalin was also arrested charged with running a gambling house. New Year's morning they were arraigned before Justice George, plead guilty, and Martin, Kreig and Ludwig were fined $15 and costs and Samalin $50 and costs.

CINCINNATI, Jen. 2.—William H. Chatfield, Jr., and George H. Beazell, former brokers, who failed last March for more than a million dollars, were put on trial today before Judge Darby in criminal court.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Winter Find You Tired and Achy?

Do You Suffer Constant Backache—Feel Old and Worn Out? Then Follow the Advice of These Elyria Folks!

DO YOU get up these winter mornings feeling tired, weak — achy all over? Are you so lame, stiff and miserable it seems you can never get back in trim? Does your back ache with a dull, constant throb? Sharp, rheumatic pains torture you at every step?

Then you should be giving some attention to your kidneys!

Winter, you know, is danger time for the kidneys. That's because exposure to colds and chills wears down body resistance and throws an unusually heavy strain on the hard-working kidneys. The kidneys are apt to fall behind in keeping the blood-stream pure, and poisons accumulate that well kidneys would have filtered off.

Racking backaches come with stabbing pains; muscles and joints ache constantly; there are headaches, too, with dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities. Nerves are "jumpy;" one feels old—all worn out.

Give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's have helped thousands. They are recommended by many Elyria people. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Elyria People:

J. B. DeVinney, 321 West St., says: "My back began to hurt and there was a continuous, dull ache over my kidneys. This condition made my back weak and my work became hard and tiresome. Being on my feet all day made me tired at night and morning my muscles were lame and stiff. My kidneys acted too frequently, also. I used Doan's Pills and my back soon felt fine and my kidneys were restored to a normal, healthy condition."

Mrs. D. West, 323 W. Third St., gave the following statement December 6, 1906: "Housework developed a serious case of kidney complaint. At first, I noticed a constant, dull ache in my back and then sharp, rheumatic pains came on me. My kidneys didn't act normally and I was all tired out. I used Doan's Pills and it wasn't long until I was entirely relieved."

On September 6, 1921 Mrs. West added: "I use Doan's Pills when my back troubles me and they never fail to give splendid relief."

NEWS OF THE WEEK WITH THE ELYRIA RADIO CLUB

In a recent journal of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers there appeared an article telling that the dangers and fire hazard of radio installations are very small. In fact, it is less dangerous than the kitchen stove.

This is really welcome news as there are so many who are daily purchasing radio equipment and many more who would like to. It must be understood in this connection that certain precautions should be observed in installing radio equipment that the aerial wire if one is used is properly supported and that an approved lightning arrester is connected to same and to the house so that if a potential greater than 200 to 300 volts should come in contact with the aerial that same would be properly discharged without injury to the equipment or those near same.

Care should be exercised in erecting outside antennae that same do not go under or over high tension wires and if possible telphone and other electric wires. If it is deemed advisable to erect poles to which antennas is to be attached care should be taken to place same in such a place or that should the pole break due to sleet on the antenna that neither would come in contact with any telephone or electric circuit.

Guy wires on poles for efficiency sake should be insulated from the ground if possible and in no case should they come over or under high potential electrical wires, nor for that matter should they come in close proximity to even low tension circuits.

The Elyria Radio Club has always been glad to give assistance in designing or advising on equipment and many more would profit by calling upon the club for helpful suggestions in time of need.

On Thursday January 3rd at 8 p. m. over Little Joe's restaurant the Elyria Radio Club will hold its annual meeting and election of officers and radio enthusiasts will find a ready welcome at all these meetings.

A radio dance is to be a feature very soon. Good speakers, and up to the minute demonstrations of the latest apparatus are to be found at all meetings.

ABE MARTIN On Shirts

IF YOU'VE GOT A WHITE SHIRT IT'S IN TH' TOP DRAWER OF YOUR DRESSER
WHERE'D YOU PUT MY WHITE SHIRT?

THE AGE OLD QUESTION

We suppose ther'll allus be all kinds o' shirts fer all kinds o' people, but right now ther seems t' be a growin' demand fer th' ole, original, trustworthy collar attached, button down th' front shirt, th' kind that Henry Clay an' a lot o' th' other ole boys used t' wear. Gittin' out a clean shirt has allus caused a lot o' munblin' an' discord, but handlin' a stiff, complicated shirt, puttin' in th' studs an' cuff buttons, an' droppin' the collar buttons, an' mussin' th' bosom—we don't believe anybuddy ever got married, or went to a party in good humor that wore a stiff shirt. As we've said, gittin' out a clean shirt, or havin' a clean shirt, or findin' we hain't got a clean shirt, has upset more homes than liquor. Ther' seems t' be somethin' about putin' on a clean shirt now an' then that's brutalizin.' Some o' th' earlier stiff bosom shirts opened at th' back, an' some opened across th' shoulders. But it wuz when a stiff bosom shirt that buttoned down th' front wuz invented that th' most profanity cut loose, fer tryin' t' hook such a shirt in front while it's on one's back is twice as maddenin' a- battlin' with a stubborn corset Another thing that made th' earlier stiff shirt all th' more difficult wuz th' little button hole flap, or tag, at th' foot o' th bosom. This little contrivanc wuz supposed t' button to an' hol up a pair o' heavy woolen drawers, thereby throwin' all the weight on th' back o' th' neck but holdin' th' bosom firm an' uncompromisin.' Dressin' up these days fer a tuxedo function is a sort of a pleasure, an' we feel jest about as comfortable an' loppy after we're dolled up as if we'd jest knocked off work at a sawmill, unless we've nicked our chin while shavin.' To be sure we still have strickly formal, stiff, full dress affairs that cause much bitterness an' sufferin,' but if most of us stay in our class we kin avoid 'em. Th' first thing a feller asks after he gits an' invitation t' something is, "Have I got a white shirt" or "Have I got a clean white shirt?" or "Where is my white shirt?" Some fellers are naturally nifty lookin' even without a collar on' an' they're tasty when it comes to' dressin' up, an' they look right, but when th' average feller is driven t' puttin' on evening clothes he rarely escapes lookin' like a corpse, 'specially around th' collar. A return t' th' gold ole reliable collar attached, button down th' front shirt, for both dress occasions an' ever' day wear, will save lots o' domestic trouble, fer many a fond wife has dug her own grave thinkin' she could iron th' neck band of a dress shirt, fer no husband wuz ever mechanic enough t' fasten a collar t' a homeironed neckband.

Mrs. Madge Jorden of Elyria spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. A. Norton.

CHARLES GOTT NEW WELLINGTON MAYOR

WELLINGTON, Jan. 2—The new village and township officers took their oath of office Monday.

Charles A. Gott, Mayor of Wellington has been a member of the Board of Public Affairs for the past fourteen years, and as such has been in touch with the power and water phases of the municipal problem. That a town the size of Wellington has 24 hour electric service, both for lighting and power, and fine filtered water in abundance, is due in a large measure to the efforts of Mr. Gott, working harmoniously with the village council.

TWO ESCAPE INJURY, TRAIN HITS TRUCK

WELLINGTON, Jan. 2.—About 6:50 Tuesday morning, the fast train going west struck a large Garford truck which was enroute from Beavor Falls, Pa., to Toledo, with a load of household goods. The train struck the front end of the truck completely wrecking it. The rear of the truck however was not damaged and the owner of the truck, C. A. Stoner, who after driving the greater part of the night, was sleeping in the rear, was uninjured.

The driver escaped with a few bruises.

ENTRE NOUS DANCE ON MONDAY A SOCIAL EVENT

WELLINGTON, Jan. 2—Over a hundred couples attended the New Year's Dancing Party given by the Entre Nous girls at the opera house Monday evening. The hall was beautifully decorated to represent a winter snow scene. Various novelty dances were featured during the evening. The "New Year's Dance" at midnight when tiny horns and other noise makers were distributed among the guests, marked the passing of the old year and the entering of the new. The Shore Inn seven piece orchestra furnished the music.

"THE UNWANTED CHILD" AT RIALTO MATINEE AND NIGHT ON TOMORROW

Scene from "The Unwanted Child," Matinee and Night, Thursday, Jan. 3

"The Unwanted Child," Florence Edna May's famous play of the same name, news of the success of which has been reaching Elyria steadily from cities in which it has played and is still being played, will hold the stage at the Rialto theatre tomorrow, matinee and night starting with a number for ladies only at 2 30 p m. This production contains the heart-appealing story of the baby that wasn't wanted and the celebrated authoress has vigorously wielded her pen in defense of the orphans of the divorce courts. A thrilling and powerful play is this story of the innocents with an unusual and different theme. While the title would suggest a most daring and sensational revelation, it is nevertheless a subject now being discussed in every city in the civilized world. It comes here under the most auspicious circumstances with a beautiful production and a highly skilled company of players. There will be a matinee daily reserved for ladies at which performance a special lecture will be given for ladies. While children are not admitted to any performance all evening performances are for men and women. Popular prices will prevail. Seats now selling.

News Notes From Movieland

Mary Astor is one of the younger screen actresses and a very pretty one, as you see. She has recently signed a Paramount contract and appeared in William DeMille's production, "The Marriage Maker" and in Thomas Meighan's latest picture, "Woman Proof."

Mary Astor.

DAISY DEAN'S MOVIE PROGNOSTICATIONS FOR 1924

I foretell that

10 000 stupendous-productions costing millions of dollars and employing hundreds of thousands of extras will be produced.

100 000 Follies beauties will become stars of the screen.

500 000 winners of beauty contests will leap into fame and fortune in pictures without a single bit of experience or influence.

5 000 Mary Pickfords will be discovered, also the same number of Jackie Coogans and Baby Peggys. We shall also, in the coming year receive photos of the "Mary Pickford of Lithouia," Baronia, and all the other foreign countries that have not favored us with such a picture to date.

10,000 Russian, German, Austrian, French, etc., nobility, whose fortunes have been shattered by the war, will rehabilitate said fortunes in the movies.

Richard Dix is to play opposite Lois Wilson in the Pulitzer prize play, "Icebound" by Owen Wister. It is a William DeMille production.

Pat O Malley is to play opposite Laurette Taylor in the screen version of "Happiness" the J Hartley Manners play. His latest pictures are "Brothers Under the Skin" for Goldwyn, Universal's "My Mamie Rose" opposite Mary Philbin, "The Virginian" and "The Eternal Struggle." Pat's small daughter, Eileen played the part of the child Peg in the film version of "Peg o' My Heart," and since then has been as popular as her daddy.

Warner Bros have purchased "Babbitt" for screen purposes and now are up against it to know who to get to play the part of the rotund, middle aged unromantic hero.

It is reported that Norma Talmadge will not screen Romeo and Juliet. She also has declined a French offer to play Marie Antoinette in "The Necklace of the Queen." Marian Davies also refused the part of the Marie.

Insurance Man Tells of Friend's Recovery

"He suffered considerably from gas in stomach and colic attacks, and at times was very yellow. His doctors diagnosed his ailment as gall bladder trouble and that an operation was necessary. Some one persuaded him to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it one year ago he tells me he has been able to eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. —Advt.

OBERLIN

By Mrs. W. H. Chapin

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTIES ARE ENJOYED

OBERLIN, Jan. 3.—Although little noise accompanied the old year out and the New Year in for Oberlin, the town as a whole was up to watch the event. Some of the older folks played cards, others attended the watch night services and the young people celebrated with dances and parties.

At the Episcopal church a Union Watch Service was held in which all of the protestant churches in Oberlin took part.

The Monday Night Club was entertained in the Eastern Star club rooms by Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Graham at an eight table 500 party.

The college "stayovers" and their friends held a dance in Rice hall which began at 9 o'clock and lasted until 1 a. m. Refreshments were enjoyed early in the evening. A series of novelty dances served to mix the crowd. At a few minutes before the exit of 1923 and the entry of 1924 horns and clackers were given out At the hour of 12:00 a racket was set up which lasted for several minutes. The first dance in the new year was one in which the girls observed leap year by choosing their partners.

Miss Catherine Smith entertained at a watch party in her home on East Lorain street.

Miss Florence Woodruff held a watch party at her home, West College street.

Miss Rebecca Nicodemus of West College street held another watch-night party.

Another was given by Mrs. Harry Frimd of Woodland avenue.

Paul Jones entertained at a midnight card party at her residence on North Professor.

MISS GENEVA BURGESS WEDS CORTNEY HURDLE

OBERLIN, Jan. 3.—With a simple wedding ceremony at the home of the brides parents at 49 E. College street, Miss Geneva Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Burgess became the bride of Mr. Cortney Hurdle of Cleveland. A few guests, the immediate members of the two families were present at the wedding and the wedding dinner which followed. The bride and groom left late in the evening for their home in Cleveland.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR MRS. F. J. BETTS

OBERLIN, O., Jan. 2.—This afternoon at 1 o'clock the funeral of Mrs. F. J. Betts who died Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Whitney at West Russia, Oberlin, took place from the Whitney residence.

Mrs. Betts had been a resident of Oberlin for only two years. For many yars she lived in Kipston. She was 76 years of age. She had been in apparent good health up until the time of her death. She leaves two sons and two daughters, Mr. W. F. Betts and Mr. C. J. Betts of Kipston and Mrs. R. L. Jordon and Mrs. W. R. Whitney of Oberlin.

WORCESTER FAMILY HOLD ITS REUNION

OBERLIN, O., Jan. 3.—A Worcester family reunion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Worcester on Forest street yesterday in honor of Mrs. Harry L. Hurlburt who is visiting from Philadelphia, Pa. Seven brothers and sisters besides the host were present at the reunion out of eleven who are living.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Squire of Columbia, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Park Worcester of Elyria, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worcester of North Russia, Mrs. Harley Worcester of Oberlin; Mrs. Harry L. Hurlburt of Philadelphia; Mrs. Roxy Ackelson, an aunt of the family of Oberlin and Mr. Irwin Worcester and son, Kenneth of Oberlin.

During the morning, Mr. P. G. Worcestr and Mrs. Hurburt visited Mrs. Nancy Smith of Elyria, another aunt, who is 92 years of age.

This is the first reunion of the family for seven years.

At noon a New Year's dinner was served and the afternoon was spent at the Worcester home. During the evening some of the younger members of the family and their friends were invited in and dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

KIWANIS CLUB HEADS LIST OF NUMEROUS NEW YEAR'S PARTIES HELD BY ELYRIANS

Prior to and during the ringing of bells, the blowing of whistles and the rejoicing which marked the birth of the New Year—Nineteen Hundred and Twenyt-four—merry groups of young people and their elders celebrated the occasion here and there throughout the city, in home, club and church edifices, thankful for much which the old year had added to the richness of their lives and particularly happy that another year had arrived with its promise of joy and prosperity.

A number of these pleasant affairs were as follows:

Kiwanis Club.

The Fifth Annual New Year's Party of the Elyria Kiwanis Club was held at Albers' Villa Monday evening and about one hundred fifty persons joined in the fun characteristic of a Kiwanis New Year's eve.

Alber's Villa had been decorated in charming style for the occasion and the banquet was served in the spacious dining room at seven. Following the dinner, Jim Armitage, president of the club, as toastmaster, introduced the various speakers and guests and presented the President's Button—emblem of the office—to George L. Richwine, the new president. President-elect Richwine in a few words told of his plans and hopes for the year 1924, and in conclusion presented the Past President's button to Mr. Armitage. Lieutenant Governor Asaph R. Jones, of the Fifth Division of the Ohio Kiwanis District, told of the "Joys of a Lieutenant Governor" and in that connection gave many hints, both as to fun and work, to the Lieutenant Governor-elect, Chas. U. Davis, of Cleveland. Mr. Davis responded to the toast, "Hopes of a Lieutenant Governor" and in outlining his plans for the coming year made a strong plea for the assistance and co-operation of every Kiwanian in the Division.

Senator J. F. Burke in a short address, replete with sunny humor and local jokes, told of the power of Kiwanis and the opportunities presented by membership in the organization. He forcefully brought home the thought that one will get out of Kiwanis just in proportion to what he puts in to it. The men for whom Kiwanis has the greatest meaning and for whom it has done and is doing the most by way of friendship and development being the men who have given and are giving the most of themselves to it.

A brief talk was given by Ed C. Forbes, who has been secretary of the Cleveland Kiwanis Club for eight years, and who was its first president. Mr. Forbes who was the first man in Ohio to join Kiwanis, and who has seen the organization grow from a club of 150 members when he joined, to an organization of more than 87,000 men covering the United States and Canada, told most interestingly of the early history In a few words Bob Rice, secretary of the local club, told of some of the inspiration which comes from the contact with local members and outside clubs as a secretary and emphasized the human fellowship side of Kiwanis.

Past President Geo. H. Chamberlain of the local club, and Howard Reynolds of the Cleveland club, added much to the joy of the occasion as song leaders.

Walter S. Jackson, governor of the Ohio District, had promised to be present at this party, the engagement having been made early last spring; but at the last moment was forced for business reasons to cancel the engagement—to the keen regret of the committee.

The party was then turned over to Kiwanis Geo. Eckert of Indianapolis, who for an hour and a half kept the crowd on the jump and in a continuous roar of laughter with a series of games, stunts and contests which served to put every one at his ease and get all intimately acquainted. His skill in securing the co-operation of the entire company was wonderful and this feature of the program was voted one of the most enjoyable ever included in a local party.

Dancing to the music furnished by Piper's orchestra concluded the program. Amid a shower of confetti and brilliant serpentines the New Year was welcomed during a "Moonlight" dance, made most effective by the special lighting arrangement of Alber's Villa. Attendance prizes were given by Max Goldstein, Harold Perry, Jos. P. Altman, Howard Allen, J. Ray Chappel, Wm. Sudro, J. H. Brown, Ray Wentz, Harry Burr, Arthur RichwineS and Host John Albers, the majority of them being won by the ladies.

Among the out of town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stauffer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dunn of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wilkinson of Berea.

The party broke up at an early hour Tuesday morning with an enthusiastic vote of thanks to the committee in charge, consisting of J. H. Brown, chairman; J. Kenneth Boylan, J. A. Herbert and Dr. H. D. Reynolds, for having provided the best of the several Kiwanis New Year's parties.

CHARMING DANCE

Members of the F. D. L. Club entertained their young friends at the Country Club New Year's Eve. The guests numbered fifty and included Miss Virginia Graham and Miss Dorothy Clark of Lakewood. Music for the dancing was furnished by Eugene St. Marie.

The hostesses served refreshments in the gayly decorated rooms prior to the guests departure.

PEDRO PARTY

A very delightful watch party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Kershaw on Columbus street.

Progressive pedro was played, high score going to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenthal, consolation prize going to Mrs. Albert Youngless and John Smith.

At twelve o'clock a delicious luncheon was served to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Wendell and sons, Howard and Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Youngless and son, Delbert Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenthal and daughter, Viola, Miss Eleanor Feese, Frank Smith, Herman Telzerow and Mrs. Thomas Grills and grandchildren, Leona and Ruby of Oberlin.

WATCH FOR NEW YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. E. Frick of Indian Hollow road entertained at a watch party New Years eve.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. Reigle Stop 11 1-2 Grafton road, Fred Hofner, Louis Frick, Mrs. Piper and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blakesly and two children, Marian and Randolph.

DANCING PARTY NEW YEAR'S NIGHT

The Misses Virginia Haserodt and Agnes Dengate entertained at a dancing party last evening at the K. of C. hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. There were eighty young people present.

The music for the evening's dancing was furnished by Eugene St. Maries orchestra. Little Mary Inez Welsh entertained with fancy dancing and Kenneth Sexton with several vocal numbers. Dainty refreshments were served late in the evening.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Virginia Graham of Cedar Heights, Cleveland, and Victor Mayer of Youngstown.

AZZEVER CLUB PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Yost, 239 North Olive street entertained the Azzever Club at Five Hundred. The prize winners were Mrs. Yost, and Arthur Davis, first and Mrs. Harry Walker and George Fees second. Mrs. Charles Meek and Harry Walker were consoled. Luncheon was served while watching the old year out and the new year in.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blythe will entertain the club January 15th at their home 113 Lewis Court.

C. E. SOCIETY

Twenty-five young people of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Congregational Church watched the old year out and welcomed the New Year at the home of Miss Elizabeth Rich on Sixteenth street.

Various interesting games occupied the jolly group until the stroke of twelve o'clock, when all were silenced and little Miss Ruth Hoffman, representing the New Year, appeared with a lighted taper and a piece was read pertaining to the New Year. Following this, the group bowed their heads for one minute of silent prayer.

Delicious refreshments were served and the guests departed around one o'clock for their homes.

MYOWN FIVE HUNDRED CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Born, 323 Harward avenue entertained Myown Five Hundred Club New Year's eve, at three tables of cards. Mrs. James Teale and Jas. Slee were awarded first prize and Mrs. William Summers and James Teale, second. Mrs. Harvey Eckenroad and William Summers were consoled. The hostess served a lovely luncheon at the close of the old year.

The club will meet on the 8th of January with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Teale, 317 Kenyon avenue.

MISS HANSMAN'S PARTY

The home of Miss Julia Hansman, 351 Furnace street was the scene of a very pleasant affair Monday evening, when she entertained at a New Year's watch party.

The home was very prettily decorated with flowers and greetings of the New Year. With the coming of Young 1924, a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess' mother. Music, dancing and games were enjoyed by the guests until a late hour at which time they departed wishing the hostess a bright and happy New Year.

WATCH NIGHT PARTY

Mildred and Dexter Strickler entertained a group of friends at their home on Fifth street, New Year's eve, for a watch party. Interesting games occupied the young folk until the stroke of twelve o'clock when a luncheon was served. Miss Eunice Porter of the Oberlin Road was a guest of the party and remained over night with the Stricklers.

NEW YEAR'S EVE AFFAIR

Music and games were the diversions of the New Year's Eve party given by Mr and Mrs. Geo Clausius of Spruce St., Monday. At a late hour, a light luncheon was served.

BABY'S OUTFIT

IF BABIES brought their clothes with them we would not have to make the following suggestions regarding the little wardrobe. Fortunately mother is pleased to look after these little garments, and we are here to help her plan.

LAYETTE NO. 2.—"VANTA"—3 binders, either silk and wool or cotton and wool priced 50c and 95c.

3 Silk and Wool Vests—Button-front, or double front, priced $1.00 to $1.60.

3 Flannel Princess Slips—Buy the material and make by hand as they are not so expensive and much nicer than ready-made ones. We make these to order, either of silk and wool or English flannel.

2 NAINSOOK SKIRTS, trimmed with lace or embroidery, very neat, and of lovely nainsook, new infant length 24", priced 89c, $1.00, $1.25

6 NAINSOOK SLIPS, semi-hand made, soft batiste, either with a touch of hand work or daintily trimmed with lace, priced 85c, $1.00 to $2.

HAND MADE SLIPS—These are the most wonderful values we have ever shown. Dresses that formerly retailed at $5.00 to $6.00, we are now showing at prices as low as $2.50, exquisitely embroidered, and of Philippine make. Every mother will want at least two of these dresses and probably the entire list of dresses needed.

3 DOZ. DIAPERS—at least; some use more—18 small ones and 18 made of 27 inch flannelette or bird-eye. Our flannelettes will be especially priced this month, 19c to 30c.

2 INFANT KIMONOS—for "after-the-Bath," these we make, and retail at $1.00 to $1.50.

3 NIGHT GOWNS—the "VANTA" is the best, no lint, and plenty of warmth—Winter weight, priced $1.15.

3 PAIRS SILK & WOOL HOSE or 3 PAIRS WOOL & COTTON priced 75c, specially priced 50c.

KNIT BOOTEES—as mother selects—all hand made, priced 35c to $1.00.

2 WRAPPING BLANKETS, priced 59c each.

Necessary Accessories include the following:

1 rubber sheet, 4 quilted crib pads, Arnold Wash cloths and towels, 1 Bath Apron—Arnold, Crib Sheets, 1 Hot Water Bag 1 Coat or Baby Bunting, 1 Infant Cap—silk preferred—not wool, 1 Kiddie Koop, 1 Toilet Basket and Accessories, 1 Toilet Set Drying forms for shirts and hose.

His Majesty, the Baby, certainly requires a "lot of things" and the mother who is at a loss will find many helpful suggestions right here in our little shop. The above list may be had at various prices but the foregoing list comprises a layette fit for a King.

During this month we will feature a silk and wool infant shirt, size 1 to 6, double front with strap pinned in back at 89c. Quantity is limited.

ST. LOUIS AFTER DEMOCRATIC CONCLAVE

WASHINGTON, D. C, Jan. 2.—St. Louis is engaged just now in a various campaign to capture the Democratic national convention to be held this summer. New York, Chicago and several other cities will also be applicants for the convention when the national committee meets here this month to make the final decision.

While the Republicans have confined their conventions almost entirely to the middle west, the Democrats have done considerable wandering in the past. In comparatively recent years they have been as far south as Baltimore and as far west as San Francisco. Should St. Louis be named as the convention city this year, abundant precedent may be found for the choice. Since 1876 St. Louis has had the honor of entertaining more Democratic national conventions than any other city. Four times within that period hvae the presidential tickets of the party been named in the Mound City. Chicago, with three of the Democratic national conventions to its credit, is next on the list. In the early years Baltimore was the favorite convention city of the Democrats. Going back more than seventy-five years, the meeting places of the Democrats were as follows, with their presidential nominee:

1844—Baltimore; Polk nominated on ninth ballot.

1848—Baltimore; Case nominated on fourth ballot.

1852—Baltimore; Pierce nominated on ninth ballot.

1856—Cincinnati; Buchanan nominated on seventeenth ballot.

1860—Charleston, S. C.,; Douglas led on fifty-seventh ballot, when convention journeyed to reconvene at Baltimore, where Douglas was nominated on second ballot.

1864 — Chicago; McClellan nominated on first ballot.

1868—New York; Seymour nominated by acclamation on 22d ballot.

1872—Baltimore; Greeley nominated on first ballot.

1880 — Cincinnati; Hancock nominated by acclamation after second ballot.

1884 Chicago; Cleveland nominated by acclamation without ballot.

1892 Chicago; Cleveland nominated on first ballot.

1896—Chicago; Bryan nominated after the fifth ballot.

1900 Kansas City; Bryan nominated by acclamation.

1904 St. Louis; Parker nominated on first ballot.
nated on first ballot.

1908—Denver; Bryan nominated on first ballot.

1912—Baltimore; Wilson nominated on forty-sixth ballot.

1916—St. Louis; Wilson nominated on first ballot.

1920 — San Francisco; Cox nominated on forty-fourth ballot.

Edgar Fuller.

An appeal from Klan sources to crush the K. K. With the Women of Today

THINKS U. S. LACKS HOME LIFE

Miss Nellie Scanlan, who represented a New Zealand newspaper at the Washington disarmament conference, spent a year and a half in this country traveling and studying social, economic, political, agricultural and industrial conditions, and she has lectured and written on virtually every subject of public interest. What impresses Miss Scanlan more than anything else she has found here is the lack of real home life. "You live more in a jazz era here than we do in New Zealand," she says; "it seems to be constant entertainment ouisde of the home that you crave. In our country our joys and entertaniments are all found within the home circle. Our women learn to manage their own households in the minutest particulars, and they love their homes and their household cares.

While Miss Scanlan is undoubtedly sincere in her criticism of us, we are inclined to doubt the truth of her statement. Might not the apparent lack of home life to which she refers be due in part numerous hostesses to entertain and to show her different phases of our American life? While an attitude of open-mindedness to outside criticism should be cultivated and our faults admitted, and an endeavor made to correct them, we think that in even a year and a half of travel and lecturing about the country no one would it settled down in a certain part of the country to study and live the ordinary life of a people. The very conditions of Miss Scanlan's life among us might tend to make her see a side of our life that is th ereverse of normal.

However, this is not the first time this criticism has been made of Americans, so possibly there is some truth in it.

HEALTH CONCERN OF MOTHERS

Convinced that the problem of health, both of the community and of the family, is primarily a mother's concern, the Congress of Mothers of Cleveland, O., has undertaken to interest and educate all mothers in health matters. To launch this work a special meeting of the congress was recently called, open to all members of the health committees of the various mothers' clubs, their presidents and any members of th ehealth committees who cared to attend.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

LORAIN LIONS "5" DEFEAT ELYRIANS LAST NIGHT, 41-32

The local "Y" team lost their second game out of the last five last night when the Fast Lions Club of Lorain had hard sledding in winning with a score of 41 to 32.

Both teams were loaded down with good players and were out to win and keep their slate clean. It did not take the Lorain players long to get started after the first whistle had blown and they had scored eight points before the local "Y" had made a point and then the "Y" scored four points Both teams had fast pass work and the first half the Lorain outfit found their shooting eyes sooner and had the edge on the Red and White five.

In the first half the "Y" team only made two field goals and five free throws while the Lorain team scored 13 field goals and 1 free throw. The first half ending with a score of 27 to 9 in favor of the Lorain Lions.

The second half found the Elyria team on edge and they made it hot for their Lorain rivals Every man on the Elyria team found his place and their team passed and shot as they were noted for in their other games this season Both teams battled hard throughout the game and the fair sized crowd were yelling at all times as the fast passing and shooting developed.

The local team was up against a stiff proposition last night and the score shows that they have a real combination when they can play the Lions club to such a score If they had been able to get under way earlier in the game or had they had five minutes more in the last half they would of ended on top for they were sure travelling at a good rate when the last whistle blew Everyone present were satisfied that Elyria has a real team and also that The Lions Club crew have a real team.

Farris and Grendow played steller games for the Lorain five while no one player stood out for Elyria as all of them played fine games. Following is the lineup:

Elyria "Y"		Lorain Lions Club
Vessey	L F	Grendow
Koppes	R F	Farris
Bills	C	Alexander
Houserman	L F	McNutt
Miller	R G	Ross

Substitutions—Berson for Vessey, Gray for Koppes, Glover for Houserman, Vessey for Berson. Doing for Farris, Reid for Alexanuder, Van Arman for Grendow.

Score at end of first half—"Y" 9, Lorain 27.

Field baskets—Vessey 3, Koppes, Grey, Bills 3, Houserman 3, Meiler 2, Grendow 4, Van Arman, Farris 7, Doing, Alexander 2, Reid 3.

Fouls—Vessey, Bills 4, Houserman, Van Arman 2, Alexander Reid, McNutt.

Time of quarters—10 minutes

Referee—Daniels.

NEW YEAR'S DAY LIVE ONE ATY

Cleveland Team Fails to Show Up; Exhibit in Afternoon Was Big Success

New Years Day was a big one for the local Y. M. C. A. this year and the program so varied that a large number of people were on hand for the various activities.

In the morning the Junior A class was scheduled for a basketball game with the Pals of Cleveland and who failed to put in an appearance and on a last minutes notice the Junior Leaders Corps, of the Y. M. C. A. filled in with team and lost out by two points. The final score ending 23 to 21 in favor of the Junior A's.

The main activities were scheduled for the afternoon and night. In the afternoon the Annual Gym Exhibition was held with the Prep. Swimming team exhibition following on its heels. The gym exhibition proved ot be one of the best that the "Y" has ever staged and the same can be said of the swimming exhibition put on by the Preps. The gym exhibition started out with a grand entry of all classes and was followed by the Prep. class who displayed some of the stunts that are taught them on the mats in their regular class work and which proved to be extra good. The junior employed boys' class then went through a drill on the stall bars which are used for correcting positions and general exercises of the body. Apparatus work was on the horse, parallel bars, and horizontal bar. This group displayed some advanced stunts that are taught in the advanced apparatus class and from all indications they are learning some real stunts that teach them to handle their bodies in any emergency. Indian club swinging was put on by a picked group of Preps. whose ages were about 11 years and who did some fancy work in the drill that they gave. The junior A class gave a dumb bell drill and followed this up with a demonstration of several games that are played in the classes and the spectators were kept on their toes all through the competition. The junior B class presented their light wand drill which was very good. Tumbling by the tumbling squad went across big and this squad show that they have some real stunts up their sleeve and will no doubt be farther advanced by the time the "Y's" annual circus comes to town. The last number on the program was ladder pyramids by the older boys class and some exellent pyramids were made and they had real form in doing the different ones.

In other words the gym exhibition was a huge success and showed before a fair sized crowd.

The Prep. swimming exhibition was one of the best ever put on in the local pool. The preps. are boys 10 and 11 years of age and the swimming team are the boys that take an interest in this one activity enough to practice regularly. They displayed only the activities that any of them can do and the work that they receive at all times Fancy diving from the low springing board as well as the high dive started the fireworks and following this a demonstration of the different swimming strokes that are used Under water swim and plunge for distance came in for their share and to finish up they staged a relay race between eight of their team. A large and enthusiastic crowd was also on hand for this event and a number stated that it was excellent.

The evening event was the annual new years night basket ball game which was played this year between the local "Y" team and the Lions Club team of Lorain The result of this game will be found in another article

HUNTINGTON

By Mrs. Lucinda Crile
Telephone 8399

HUNTINGTON, Jan. 2—The Christmas program at the M. E. church Dec. 23, was greatly impaired by the illness of many and the continuous rain and bad roads, yet those who were able to attend enjoyed the exercises This day was set as a special gift day to rebuild in a day what was lost in a day by the great earthquake in Japan. While none of the missionaries were injured yet the churches, schools, hospitals and most of our buildings were destroyed To restore these buildings will require $1,603,000 The church and Sunday school gave $11 84 to the fund Remembering the word of Jesus, "Inasmuch as ye have done unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done unto me."

Mr. and Mrs Conrad Naegele, Antone Naegele, Mr. and Mrs John Naegele and daughters spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs Dan Kater.

August Pfaff and family are moving to Elyria and Mr. and Mrs Nile Thudium will occupy the house which they are vacating.

Mrs. John Crile is on the sick list. Johnson Crile had the misfortune to lose a horse Sunday night on account of indigestion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Handley and children and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chapman and children spent Christmas day at the home of Will Handley.

Mr. and Mrs. Will June, Mr. and Mrs. A. Neel spent Christmas day with Marion Neel and family at Spencer.

Last Thursday Cleo Finkle, Henry West and Embery Pifer attended the funeral of Mrs. J. H. McKim, who lost her life in an automobile accident while coming home from Christmas shopping.

Will June's nephew, Earl Brown, Jr., is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. June.

F. F. Roberson, of Lorain, spent Christmas at the home of his uncle, O. W. Roberson and wife.

[illegible] C. Leminger and family spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Will Street at Wellington.

Mrs. H. J. Sol[illegible]da has been quite sick.

How to Stop Sour Stomach

Chronic With Many People—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Bring Quick Comfort—Sweeten and Stop Acid, Sour Risings and Such Dyspeptic Distress.

When the fact is considered that even careful people, those who follow diet rules, get attacks of indigestion no argument is needed to recommend the best means of relief Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used by lawyers, doctors, teachers, by business men, high livers, society women, industrial workers, clerks and the most abused stomachs in the world, those of a host of travelers

For thirty years people have learned that they may eat what they like or what is set before them, and no matter what the condition of the stomach if due to dyspepsia these wonderful tablets stop gassiness and sour risings, they give the stomach the alkaline effect which overcomes acidity and it is thus they either avoid distress after eating or else they quickly relieve it. Be fortified. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store and arm yourself against indigestion.—Adv.

Madge Told Harriet an Unpleasant Truth.

So absorbed was Harriet in her own thought that it was fully two minutes before she put them into words. Then she spoke abruptly, as if the decision she voiced had just been forced from her.

"Margaret, I'm going away."

I was guilty of an amazed start and a stammered "Wh-a-a-t!" so astonishing and unlike my sister-in-law did the announcement sound. She has made it almost a fetish never to leave others the care of her brilliant, absent-minded husband, and I wondered fearfully if her absurd worry concerning his entirely natural regard for Katherine Sonnot, for so long his assistant, had jarred her brains. But her next sentence relieved that anxiety.

"'Don't look so alarmed," she said, with an apology for a smile. "I haven't taken leave of my senses, nor do I contemplate breaking up my home or leaving my husband for good. But I simply must satisfy myself that you are right and I wrong concerning—that matter— of which we spoke——"

Seeing Mrs. Bickett.

I looked away from her in pity for the humiliation which I knew the reticent, dignified woman was suffering. "And I have decided that the best course to pursue is to go away for a week or so, and leave Edwin to his own devices.

"Because of Mrs. Durkee—he never leaves the dressings on critical cases to assistants as many surgeons do—he will see Mrs. Bickett every day at the hospital. I have the feeling that during Mrs. Durkee's stay at the hospital, I should like Edwin to be absolutely unhampered by my presence even in the same city, so I think I shall go down to the farm to see Mother in the morning—I had planned to go just for the day anyway, but I shall stay there until Mrs. Durkee has no further need of Edwin's calls—that is, if it is convenient—" Her voice held so unusual a note of deprecating timidity, that my throat constricted with compassion for her, even though I was impatient at her folly.

"Convenient!" I echoed scornfully. 'Just as if your mother weren't counting the minutes until she saw you, and will cherish each extra hour that you can spend with her. And you ought to know how welcome you are to Dicky and me."

"I do know," she returned, laying her hand on mine with a swift, shy gesture, and withdrawing it as quickly. "But do you think I'm doing right in going for so long?"

Vague Fears Absurd.

"Absolutely," I answered promptly. "You are doing the wisest thing possible."

It was her turn to look startled. "Then you think—" she asked breathlessly.

I put my hand over hers in a firm, reassuring clasp.

"I think," I said with assurance, "as I always have, that your vague fears concerning Edwin's feelings for Katherine Sonnot are an absurdity raised to the nth degree. It will make absolutely no difference, in that respect, whether you go or stay."

"Then why—?" she began, palpably puzzled.

"Counsel you to go?" I finished her sentence. "May I speak frankly?"

"Of course."

"Well, then!" I drew a deep breath, and struck out into the unknown sea. "I think you have so coddled Edwin, so wrapped him in cotton wool as it were, that while you undoubtedly have helped him wonderfully, in some ways, yet you also have hindered him in others. It isn't quite fair to him, is it, to be known as the 'man who can't get along without his wife at every step'? All the surgeons of his rank have not such perfect, self-denying care."

White-lipped, flaming-eyed, she sprang from her chair and towered over me.

"Is that what people are saying?" she demanded, and then, sharp, freighted with suspicion, came the query:

"How do you know that? Who told you?"
